

ELIZABETH BAUER

Layers of color, pattern, and texture define Elizabeth's delightfully modern take on traditional design. The native New Yorker pairs antiques with flea-market treasures and mixes pieces from different time periods for accessible design with an attitude.

Elizabeth Bauer Design, New York, NY elizabethbauerdesign.com

MEG BRAFF

Hailing from Mississippi, this Southern transplant has established herself as an Uptown girl, with high-society clients in Manhattan, as well as Palm Beach and Newport. Meg makes them feel at home—infusing classic designs with saturated color and lively patterns.

Meg Braff Interiors Inc., New York, NY
megbraff.com

PAUL CORRIE

Paul's interiors may well tip the scale when it comes to edited, contemporary touches that honor tradition with layers of color and textures with patina—an interior design spot on the radar of urban sophisticates.
Paul Corrie Interiors, Washington, DC
paulcorrie.com

20 young designers to watch

ONDINE KARADY

As a set decorator for HBO's Sex and the City, Ondine kitted out homes for the iconic quartet. Now her real-life clients are Hollywood celebs, journalists, and D.C. pundits, who applaud her elegant eccentricity. With mid-century and custom pieces, her spaces are always inventive.

Ondine Karady, New York, NY
ondinekarady.com

GARROW KEDIGIAN

Tailored. Architectural. Garrow's interiors reflect his roots. After attending McGill University's Architecture program and working with interior designer William Hodgins, Garrow opened his own firm in 2002. His designs are understated, sophisticated, and intricately beautiful.

Garrow Kedigian Interior Design, New York, NY
garrowkedigian.com

KELLY LAPLANTE

From Victorian to über-modern, Kelly LaPlante has worked with a wide range of clients for the past decade, creating beautiful environments for them. In the process, she has developed a design standard, not a style." With a focus on a line of chic yet sustainable furniture, Kelly LaPlante Organic Interiors is based in Venice Beach, CA; kellylaplante.com be neutral zones, but comes to style. His ch sneaks into classic furnishings and d that's landed him a n style setters.

hington, DC

JULIE DODSON

With a design degree from Ole Miss, Julie worked for several high-end Houston design firms before joining forces in 2003 with her mother, Trisha Dodson, as Dodson & Daughter Interiors. Julie's understated elegance with a touch of glam hails from Old Hollywood.

Dodson & Daughter Interiors, Houston, TX
dodsonanddaughter.com

MARSHALL ERB

You'd never guess it—Marshall Erb may be young, but he creates traditional interiors that belie that youth. His in-depth knowledge of the three A's—antiques, artwork, and architecture—enable him to create timeless interiors with a clean-lined, edited appeal.

Marshall Morgan Erb Design Inc., Chicago, IL
marshallerb.com

Bring fresh eyes, clean lines,

TE

modern, eco-designer
st decade has created or her green-minded he's proven "green is a atch for her upcoming le fabrics and rugs.
terior Design,
plante.com

KATIE LEEDE

Creativity flows freely for this native Texan, who was a hat designer and actor before starting her interiors firm in 2001. Art, antiques, and exotic textiles abound in Katie's projects, enlivening old-world style and warming modern spaces.

Digs by Katie, Santa Monica, CA
digsbykatie.com

MASSUCCO, WARNER, MILLER

You could call this trio the "Charlie's Angels" of interior design, but they're actually quite down to earth—despite heavenly residential projects from Washington, D.C., to the Pacific Northwest. Julie Massucco, Melissa Warner, and Carrie Miller create classically grounded designs that buzz with energy.

Julie Massucco, Melissa Warner, Carrie Miller, San Francisco, CA; massuccowarnermiller.com

MOLLY FREY

Refreshingly clean and livable spaces are the hallmarks of architectural designer Molly Frey. With training in environmental studies and residential design, Molly does it all—from initial planning to finishing touches—for homes that are as functional as they are beautiful.

Molly Frey Design, Marblehead, MA
mollyfreydesign.com

BRAD FORD

Résumés don't come much better: a degree from the Fashion Institute of Technology and work with Thad Hayes and Jed Johnson. Did we mention he has more Southern charm than Rhett Butler? Known for his elegant and functional spaces, Brad creates interiors that are timeless while seriously au courant.

Brad Ford Interior Design Inc., New York, NY
bradfordid.com

Eric describes his American design—which might sound. "To juxtapose a French ar with a new furnishing, editing." He open

Eric For

and just plain fun to today's

EMILY MILLER

As a wife, new mom, and pet owner, Emily is adamant that her interiors be both beautiful and functional. For inspiration and affirmation, she quotes da Vinci: "Simplicity is the ultimate sophistication." She worked for Dallas's Sherry Hayslip, then opened her own firm in 2005.

Emily Miller Interiors, Dallas, TX
emilymillerinteriors.com

ERIN PITTS

Erin doesn't play favorites when it comes to design. Her philosophy mixes equal parts of classic architecture, functionality, and simplicity for projects that result in delectable beauty. And with a husband who manufactures furniture, her understanding of home design is all-inclusive.

Erin Paige Pitts Interiors, Baltimore, MD
erinpaigepittsinteriors.com

Plain walls are pretty, what wows. An av offers Atlanta's lar wallpapers in his own his neighboring fabric for smar

J. Po

ERIC FORD

Eric Ford's signature look as modern isn't as hard-edged as it might seem. It means the freedom to mix and match, like a '50s lamp or a vintage chair. "all with proper balance," he says, "all with proper balance." He founded his own firm in 2004. Eric Ford Design, Little Rock, AR ericforddesign.com

CHRISTOPHER GAONA

His upscale clientele wants luxury and refinement, but not at the cost of "don't touch" interiors. Not a problem for Christopher, who has mastered fine living with a comfortable mix of art, fabrics, classic furniture, and texture. Christopher Gaona Inc., Santa Monica, CA christophergaona.com

JESSICA HELGERSON

By now, it's no secret: Green can be gorgeous. And for this young designer, there's not an iota of hardship in seeking out local artists and artisans, earth-wise materials, antiques, and vintage finds—all of which contribute to the sustainability of her uncluttered interiors. Jessica Helgerson Interior Design, Portland, OR jhinteriordesign.com

upbeat traditional style

JACK POLES

But to Jack, wallpaper is his best friend. A lover of patterns, Jack has the largest stock of eco-friendly wallpaper in the South. He even persuaded a client's house to jump on board with a fun and convenient design. Jack Poles Interiors, Atlanta, GA jackpoles.com

TODD RICHESIN

Southern charm and lots of it. Todd's interiors display his mastery of color, insistence on detail, fondness for gorgeous fabrics, and ability to drill down to the heart of a home, where its owners' personalities shine. Look for his Key West conch design in our June issue. Todd Richesin Interiors, Knoxville, TN toddrichesininteriors.com

MARK ROBERTS

Mark joined his father's design firm in 1997, with a BFA in interior design. But his grooming began earlier. "Instead of going camping, we toured Monticello and Colonial Williamsburg." His goal is timeless sophistication, with turn-key architectural projects a specialty. Larry Roberts Interiors, Cedar Rapids, IA larryrobertsinteriors.com

