Chicago's Top Interior Designers in 2021

Jasmin Reese

Jasmin Reese Interiors is a Chicago-based Residential Luxury firm that also services Naples, Florida. From the start, she meets in her Lincoln Park office and design shop for a collaborative "Style session" – this determines how high octane the client is willing to go, and then the magic starts.

She is an artist and can work in many different styles. Her instinct is blending antiques with modern elements, dark finishes mixed with light, feminine tones contrasting with masculine, and high low pieces. Her signature style includes bold wallpapered ceilings that allow artworks to be at eye level and artfully designed "color bomb" rooms that are whimsical and sophisticated at the same time.

Ironically, her rooms appear very maximalist at first blush- however, they have limited, edited furnishings and simple styling for a classic and timeless tone. Her painterly interiors have gained her repeat business from clients who love their comfortable spaces, and she can complete homes over years if it isn't done all at once.

The biggest compliment is that her team is now starting to design her clients' children's first apartments after designing their rooms when they were children. This speaks to the trust clients have with Jasmin Reese Interiors and the design journey that the firm offers.

Lauren Coburn

Lauren Coburn, LLC is a full-service interior architecture and design firm specializing in architectural interiors. Lauren has built her business over the last 17 years based on magnificent design, transparency, and exceptional customer service.

They do everything from assisting clients in building new homes and renovation to full-scale interior design. Lauren was trained initially by the world-renowned architect Stanley Tigerman, and her degree from the Art Institute of Chicago is in interior architecture.
